

Dixon Center for Military & Veterans Services

Many organizations across the nation work with Dixon Center for Military and Veterans Services with our team providing leadership, tested solutions, research, and training dedicated to helping organizations and communities improve the quality of life of veterans and military families.

At Dixon Center, we believe our veterans and military families can succeed where they live. Our mission is to ensure that's possible in every community. We work to break down barriers, drive a new conversation about the potential of our veterans, engage organizations and communities, and connect veterans and military families with what they need for meaningful employment, education and overall wellness. We do this by:

- Bringing together people, traditional and non-traditional resources and expertise to assist our strategic partner network innovate, transform and expand services.
- Fostering, strengthening and expanding community-based connections to harness local supports and services for veterans and their families.
- Acting as a recognized and visible network and voice for military and veterans services, we create opportunities while advocating on behalf of our veterans and their families.

Our national credibility and community-based outreach spans more than 600 communities across all 50 States and has provided an unmatched resource and support network for over one million veterans and military families since 2010.

"Dixon Center has defined the American model of excellence for the successful reintegration of our veterans and military families. From their tireless work in the Pentagon to the emergence of Dixon Center, the leadership inspires and encourages all of us to break down the silos and never forget to put veterans and their need first."

Admiral Michael Mullen, U.S. Navy (Retired), 17th
Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff

Organizations, public and private, seek out Dixon Center to provide relevant, objective, and trusted counsel to increase their national impact at the community level. Collectively, Dixon Center has worked with thousands of organizations and passionate individuals who want to connect solutions and tools to veterans and military families in need of education, meaningful employment, and wellness.

633 Third Avenue, Sixth Floor • New York, NY 10017 • www.dixoncenter.org